Large-scale exercises of Soviet Army units in the GDR, which started in late February, were continued up to early April. Winter training was wound up at the posts by troop inspections and preparations for a transfer of the troops to the summer camps. The transfer from the posts to troop training grounds which, according to observations made during the preceding years, had been expected in mid-April, was actually started two weeks later than usual. The first units departed on 25 April. Elements of the Soviet Army units in the area of the Central Group of Forces in Austria left for the DOELLERSHEIM troop training grounds already in early April.

GERMANY

Order of Battle.

1. Between 1 April and 1 May, no information was obtained indicating a change in the general OB picture including the quartering of units. Numerous units were again confirmed by source observations and Soviet documents. For details, see Annex 1. Attached to the report are furthermore a compilation of all Soviet Army units in Germany, status of mid-April, and a map showing the locations of these units in the GDR. See Annex 2 and Annex 3 respectively.

Training.

2. The exercises at division level some of which have already been mentioned in the last Monthly Report and which started in late February terminated about 10 April. On the basis of all reports obtained during this period, it can safely be assumed that almost every division of the 22 combat divisions stationed in the GDR conducted an exercise from 4 to 7 days duration. All units were reinforced by their respective corps and/or army troops and, in some instances, also by units of the IV Arty Corps. Except for one army, the exercises were organized in such a way that the bulk of the troops involved had to reach the training area by rail. The exercises of the three divisions of the German People's Army did not involve rail transportation; these divisions conducted exercises similar to those of other armies, however, in the vicinity of their posts. These special arrangements which have been made for this army every year may be explained by the assumption that the army is an alert unit to be employed in the CROSSBERLIN area in case of riots. The units of the two rifle armies did not conduct their exercises at corps level, as was previously assumed, but practiced at division level at different time periods. It is rather safe to believe that, in each case, elements of another division operated as enemy group. The following compilation shows all exercises in the GDR conducted after late February:

a. Eighth Gds Army Area

Date	Area	Unit
7 to 13 March	OHRDRUF-GOTHA	57th Gds Mtz Rifle Div
15 to 20 March	OHRDRUF	39th Gds Mtz Rifle Div
18 to 21 March	GOTHA-LANGENSALZA	57th Gds Mtz Rifle Div (?) and elements of the 21st Gds Mech Div as enemy group
25 to 31 March	OHRDRUF	20th Gds Mech Div
29 March to approximately 1 April	NAUMBURG-CAMBURG	21st Gds Mech Div and elements of the 57th Gds Mtz Rifle Div as enemy group

b. Third Shock Army Area

9 to 12 March	Northeast sector LETZLING HEATH	19th Gds Mech Div
17 to 21 March	NEUSTREELITZ- KYRITZ-PRITZWALK	94th Gds Mtz Rifle Div
24 to 29 March	Northeast sector LETZLING HEATH	207th Mtz Rifle Div
28 March to 1 April	WITTSTOCK-FUERSTENBERG- KYRITZ	18th Mech Div

c. First Gds Mech Army

24 to 31 March	ZEITHAIN-CROSSENHAIN and eastward	8th Gds Mech Div
3 to 6 April	" "	9th Tank Div

Exercises of the 11th Gds Tank Div were presumably conducted in the same area in mid-March.

5 to 7 April	NEURUPPIN-NEUGLIENICKE	12th Gds Tank Div
6 to 10 April	North sector of TEIPLIN-FURSTENBERG-MENZ	9th Gds Tank Div

e. Third Gds Mech Army Area

25 February to 3 March	BRAND-JUETERBOG	14th Gds Mech Div
7 to 11 March	BRAND-JUETERBOG	6th Gds Tank Div
15 (?) to 18 March	BRAND-JUETERBOG	9th Mech Div
16 to 20 March	BRAND-JUETERBOG	7th Gds Tank Div

f. Fourth Gds Mech Army Area

6 to 10 March	MIROW-NEURUPPIN	25th Tank Div and elements of the 6th Gds Mech Div as enemy group
16 to 21 March	PEITZ-BEFSKOW	7th Gds Mech Div and elements of the 25th Tank Div as enemy group
24 to 28 March	MIROW-NEURUPPIN	4th Gds Mech Div and elements of the 10th Gds Tank Div as enemy group
1 to 4 April	BARUTH-JUETERBOG-FELZIG	10th Gds Tank Div and elements of 51st Mtrcl Regt

Concordant information proved that only elements of the divisions participated in the abovementioned exercises. The following units for instance participated in an exercise of the 6th Gds Mech Div in the MIROW-NEURUPPIN area: elements of the 16th, 17th and 25th Gds Mech Regts; of the 82d Gds Mv Tank SF Regt; of the 68th Gds Tank Regt (US); of the 120th (?) AAA Regt; of the 240th Mtrcl Regt; of the 22d Gds Engr Bn; of the 52d Gds RL Bn; of the 31st Tank Tng Bn; and of the 71st Light Artz Bn of the Fourth Gds Mech Army. The movement to the training area was made in 26 trains, while 24 trains are needed for the shipment of a mechanized division of war strength. An exercise of the 10th Gds Tank Div held in the BARUTH-JUETERBOG-FELZIG area also involved elements of the three tank regiments of this division. The units of the division participating in this exercise were reinforced by elements of the three brigades of the IV Arty Corps. The fact that elements of all three basic units (for instance, all mechanized regiments of a mechanized division) and the training battalions of the divisions participated supports the assumption that no combat teams as they may be organized in case of war had been formed. The natural form of organizing combat teams from mechanized divisions would have been the reinforcement of mechanized regiments by tank and artillery units.

It is believed that the training period of strong elements of divisions which, for the first time this year, was prolonged to one and a half months, served the purpose of testing and improving the degree of mobility of trained personnel and establishing the pattern for the summer training. The observation during exercises of the Eighth Gds Army that tanks and wheeled vehicles were completely dug in is indicative of an increased adjustment to atomic warfare.

3. Combat firing practice by artillery, AAA and tank units decreased compared with that during the preceding months. The following details were learned:

a. ALTENGRABOW troop training grounds

Elements of the 2d Light Arty Brig (US) of the Second Gds Mech Army (3 shipments) and elements of the 90th RL Regt (US) (1 shipment) from SCHONWALDE engaged in combat firing practice at ALTENGRABOW from 27 March to 1 April.

b. KOENIGSBRUECK troop training grounds

In February and in early March, Eighth Gds Army AAA units from HALLE, WEIMAR, OHDRUP and WEISENFELS engaged in combat firing practice at KOENIGSBRUECK. As one shipment each from JENA and GLAUCHAU arrived at the troop training grounds in March, it is believed that AAA units of the 20th Gds Mech Div and 220th Hv Tank SP Regt of the Eighth Gds Army also practiced firing there.

c. JUETTERBOG troop training grounds

From 21 March to 1 April, AAA units of the 25th Tank Div with one shipment each from their three posts and elements of the 63d AAA Div (US) from FUERSTENWALDE (2 shipments) practiced in the JUETTERBOG area. The dispatch of 5 small shipments from JUETTERBOG and TREBBEN to COTTBUS, PEITZ and NEINSICKE on 14 and 16 April tends to indicate that, in mid-April, special exercises have been conducted at the troop training grounds, possibly by tank details. From 20 to approximately 25 April, artillery units of the 10th Gds Tank Div which had arrived from KRAMNITZ by road, practiced firing in the northeast sector of the training grounds.

d. South Sector of LETZLING HEATH

The tank details of the 20th Gds Mech Div from ZEITZ and of the 25th Tank Div from MENZLAU, which transferred to the south sector of LETZLING HEATH in mid-March, returned to their posts on 21 and 29 March. A detail of the 220th Hv Tank SP Regt of the Eighth Army completed firing practice with live ammunition on 27 March. Pertinent loadings were noticed at WOLFRISTEDT railroad station.

e. ZEITZ FOREST training area

As on 11 April tanks of the 37th Gds Mtz Rifle Div were still identified in ZEITZ FOREST, it appears that the combat firing practice by units not from the ZEITZ Post was continued up to mid-April.

f. Ruegen Island

A unit of the 2d Light Arty Brig (US) of the Second Gds Mech Army transferred from DOEBERITZ to SAGARD in one shipment from 21 to 25 April. On 22 and 23 April, 2 shipments with elements of the 3d Gds AT Arty Brig of the IV Arty Corps departed from ROSTOCK for the same destination. It is believed that combat firing at sea targets was practiced in the PRORA area in conjunction with the 4th AT Arty Brig (US) of the IV Arty Corps there.

g. WUSTROW troop training grounds

The rotation of AAA units to WUSTROW, which was intensively used in February and the second half of March 1954, decreased after about mid-March. This probably resulted from large-scale exercises in March, which also involved AAA units of corps and armies. The following AAA units were identified at the WUSTROW firing range:

IV Arty Corps

2d Gds AAA Div	23 to 29 March	1 shipment from KUMMERSDORF
6th Gds AAA Div (US)	after 2 April	1 shipment each from CHEMNITZ and AUE

The whereabouts of the elements of the 32d AAA Div (US) which transferred to WUSTROW from FRANKFURT/Oder in 2 shipments on 27 February could not be determined.

Eighth Gds Army

13th AAA Div	after 20 March	1 shipment from WEIMAR
489th AAA Regt (US) XXIX Mtz Rifle Corps Gds	21 March to 16 April	3 or 4 shipments from NAUMBURG

Third Shock Army

U/1 AAA Regt/LXXIX Mtz Rifle Corps	10 to 24 March	1 shipment from BURG
---------------------------------------	----------------	----------------------

The whereabouts of the units of the 3d Gds AAA Div which transferred to WUSTROW from MAGDEBURG in 2 shipments on 18 February could not be determined. The elements of the 2511th Gds AAA Regt of the 18th Mech Div, which transferred from FRIEBERG to the firing range on 8 March, probably returned to their unit for an exercise in late March.

Second Gds Mech Army

31st AAA Div	15 March to 2 April	1 shipment from VELTEN
1382d AAA Regt (US)/ 1 Mech Div	18 March to 9 April	1 shipment from DOEBERITZ

63d AAA Div (US)

16 (?) March to 3 April 2 shipments from
EBERSWALDE

On 7 March, the air force AAA unit, which transferred to the firing range from FINSTERWALDE on 18 February, returned to its airfield. Units from the airfields of TROLLENHAGEN and PUETNITZ, which also went to WESTPOW in mid-February, were not observed to return.

4. So far as could be determined, engineer units had not yet taken up summer training at their special training grounds. The troops practiced in the vicinity of their posts up to mid-April. Engineer units engaged in ferry construction and river-crossing practices included elements of the 36th Pon Bridge Regt observed near MAGDEBURG, the 133th Gds Engr Bn of the 8th Gds Mech Div observed near GRIMMA and engineer troops of the XXVIII Gds Mtz Rifle Corps seen near SAALFELD. The camps southeast of ROSSLAU and on the south bank of the Elbe River east of AKEN were occupied by major advance parties in mid-April, which were observed reconditioning and enlarging quarters. Hutments which had been disassembled in GROSSKUEHNAU were used for enlarging the quarters in the camp southeast of ROSSLAU, reconstruction work being carried out by troops of the 36th Pon Bridge Regt of the GOFG from MAGDEBURG. The latter troops were stationed in this camp during the last summer. In late March, a bridge was built across the Saale River near BERNBURG from amphibious cars of the unidentified engineer regiment of the GOFG within fifteen minutes. The bridge was subsequently crossed by tanks. This has been the first report on the construction of a hasty bridge. On 21 and 22 April, elements of the regiment moved from BERNBURG to SPERENBERG in two shipments. They set up a tent camp at Hege Lake. It is possible that the construction of hasty bridges was to be demonstrated.

Movement to Troop Training Grounds

5. During the last years, Soviet Army units started moving to their training grounds about 10 April. As, this spring, they started transferring after 25 April, little information on the transfer has been received so far. However, it seems, that the troops generally departed for those troop training grounds they had occupied during the last years. For details, see Annex 4. Reasons for the postponement of the transfer may have been:
  - a. Division exercises, which were not completed before the second week of April (see paragraph 2).
  - b. Final recruit inspections held in billeting areas in mid-April; previously, these inspections were already held in mid-March.
 The postponed transfer, which had probably been resolved upon primarily for reasons of training, had the welcome by-effect that major troop contingents were available at military posts for immediate employment in the event of 1 May riots.

Transportation

6. During the period under review, the traffic situation of the East German Railroads was normal. However, occasionally it proved necessary to draw upon the pool of reserve freight cars. In the first days of April, the Soviets claimed 1,000 to 1,300 freight cars per day, but later freight space was claimed by the Soviet Occupation Power at the normal rate of 500 to 600 cars per day. Coal stocks available continued to be at the critical low level of about six days' requirements as observed since the beginning of the year. Coal stocks available on 19 April represented 5.9 days' requirements; 60 percent of these stocks were Upper Silesian hard coal, the remainder domestic brown coal briquettes.
7. Traffic through border stations on the Oder and Neisse Rivers was normal. For details on the Soviet supply traffic, see paragraph 9 below.
8. According to unconfirmed information, the staff of the Soviet Railroad Transportation Control Headquarters attached to RBD Berlin was reduced. It is unknown whether the same measure was also taken with regard to the Soviet transportation control headquarters of the other seven RBDs. Locomotive columns No 4 stationed in Frankfurt/Oder and No 1 stationed in Cottbus were ordered to transfer 30 to 40 percent of their locomotive equipment to the pool of column reserve locomotives. If these two items of information should prove to be correct, they would indicate that the Soviets do not plan major transportation operations involving rail shipments between the USSR and the GDR in the near future.

Supply

9. It is believed that the shipments of military supply goods from the USSR to the GDR were covered almost completely during March 1954. Reports received present the following picture:
  - a. Ammunition shipments from the USSR to the GDR continued to rise and reached a total of 426 carloads, which is considerably higher than the monthly levels in 1952 and 1953, when 265 and 172 carloads respectively arrived. It is unknown whether the higher rate of ammunition shipments was connected with increased ammunition consumption during exercises or reflects an intention of raising ammunition stocks available in Germany.
  - b. Ration supply shipments also increased considerably in March, when they reached a remarkable high of 1,400 carloads. Supplementary information received for the month of January indicated that a total of 820 carloads of ration supplies arrived during this month; in February, the corresponding figures stood at 575 carloads. Intra-zonal ration supply traffic observed in March, i.e. the issuance of ration supplies to troop units at ration supply depots, did not show a corresponding increase. At first, it had been believed that the increased ration supply shipments from the USSR to the GDR reflected the critical food situation in Germany which prevented the Soviets from living on the country to the previous extent. However, in view of the fact that ration supply shipments continued to arrive at an increased rate without being paralleled by an increased volume of distribution at ration supply depots makes it appear doubtful whether this explanation is correct. There is a possibility that the Soviets are currently increasing their ration supply stocks in Germany.

10. During the reported period, the ration supply depot at Altenburg for the first time received shipments from the USSR, while Soviet supply shipments were no longer directed to the ration supply depot at Erfurt-Marbach. This point requires clarification.

Kasernierte VolkspolizeiOrder of Battle

11. Up to 27 April 1954, no changes have been observed in the distribution of KVP forces. Unconfirmed information by a reliable source indicated that the KVP Department at the Ministry of the Interior will be transferred to recently completed buildings of Installation Seehaus at STRAUSBERG airfield between 28 April and 3 May. Personnel to be transferred will include Lieutenant General Karl Heinz Hoffmann, Lieutenant General Vincenz Mueller and Major General Wilhelm Mayer. It is believed that, for the time being, only sections of the KVP department of the Ministry of the Interior will be transferred, as the entire Seehaus Installation will not be completed before August or September 1954. The BERLIN-BIESDORF guard regiment, whose third battalion has already been employed for guard duty at the new installations in the STRAUSBERG area, will also move to STRAUSBERG upon completion of the buildings. According to deserter statements, a unit of 200 men, which is subordinate directly to the TV LEIPZIG (Corps South), is stationed in the artillery school in TORGAU. There are some indications that this unit represents the cadre of the hitherto unlocated AT artillery regiment of Corps South, which apparently still is in process of activation.

The AT artillery regiment of Corps North or at least elements of this regiment were stationed in the Kavallerie Kaserne, Pasewalk, in March. The unit departed from PASEWALK by rail on 31 March. The previous post of the AT artillery regiment was GROSS-STALLBERG.

Training

12. Prior to mid-April, intensive training activity by the seven KVP divisions and corps troops was concentrated on practices in the field. Basic and ordnance training up to company level was conducted in the areas of the military posts, while firing practice with live ammunition and combat practices with all weapons were held at troop training grounds. Alert and march practices up to regimental level were held in the vicinity of the posts. As to the assignment of troop training grounds and firing ranges, it was determined that all units of Corps North are to use JAEGERBRUECK troop training grounds, Divisions FRUFURT and HALLE the ZUELSDORF troop training grounds in ANNABURG Forest, northeast of TORGAU, and Mechanized Division DRESDEN and the ZEITHAIN tank SP regiment of Division HALLE the WASSWASSER troop training grounds. No training grounds could be determined for Mechanized Division POTSDAM. A new KVP AAA firing range on Auf dem DARES near ZINGST was taken into operation in mid-March. Prior to approximately 14 April, AAA units of Corps North and South and of Mechanized Division POTSDAM engaged in firing practices there. The pin-point location of the firing range is not known. At Easter, the training program was interrupted when 50 percent of the personnel were given furlough up to 20 April. Spring inspections under the supervision of the KVP Department of the Ministry of the Interior were scheduled to be held for all units in late April. The other 50 percent of the personnel will go on furlough at Whitsuntide. It is expected that the majority of the units will then transfer to the troop training grounds for the summer training period. The bulk of Corps North is not scheduled to move to the summer camp, the reason presumably being that the vicinity of the posts, especially that of the EGGESIN-TORGELOW area, is suitable for any kind of training. As it is believed that the troop training grounds of ZUEHLSDORF and WEISSWASSER will not suffice for the Mechanized Division POTSDAM and Corps South, it is possible that Soviet troop training grounds will partially be used by the KVP or turned over to the KVP.

Organization

- 13 a. It is known that, probably since the reorganization and activation of units in the fall of 1953, medium tank regiments of the mechanized divisions no longer include SP gun battalions. It is believed that the SP guns previously available with the medium tank regiments of Mechanized Division EGGESIN were turned over to the tank SP regiments of newly activated infantry divisions. At present, the medium tank regiments are organized into three tank battalions each, with 2 companies to each battalion, and into 1 submachine battalion. Thus, the medium tank regiments are organized after the pattern of the Soviet mechanized divisions, except that they are short of the SP gun battalion. Deserters stated that the tank battalions were to be assigned a third tank company.
- b. The headquarters company of the division headquarters of Mechanized Division EGGESIN is equipped with 5 T-34 tanks, which checks with the Soviet pattern.
- c. According to unconfirmed reports of early April, trucks mounting rocket launchers were seen in the EGGESIN area. So far, however, no rocket launcher battalion has definitely been identified with Division EGGESIN.
- d. Statements by deserters indicated that the KIRCHHOESER AAA regiment of Mechanized Division POTSDAM, which had previously been equipped with both 37 and 85-mm AA guns, is now equipped only with 24 x 37-mm AA guns. The ALTWARP AAA regiment of Mechanized Division EGGESIN still has 85-mm and 37-mm AA guns.
- 25X1 e. [REDACTED] the engineer battalion of Division SCHWERIN has four companies while that of Mechanized Division POTSDAM is reported to have only two companies.
- f. The FREHNITZ mortar regiment of Mechanized Division POTSDAM consists of three battalions which have reached the T/E strength of 54 x 120-mm mortars. The regiment numbers 450 men and is still below the authorized strength.

Differences in the organization result from a shortage of weapons and personnel as usually experienced in a stage of activation. The final aim is believed to be an organization patterned after that of the Soviet.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

Order of Battle

14. For Soviet units which were again confirmed, see Annex 1.

Personnel

15. Available is a letter from the USSR confirming the registration for the draft of members of the 1935 class in late 1953 and early 1954. It is expected that these men will be inducted this year.

Training

16. The 13th Mech Div or, at least, strong elements of the division, including the 45th and 46th Gds Mech Regt, the 15th (Gds ?) Tank Regt and the 8th Gds Engr Bn participated in a large-scale exercise in the Soviet Zone of Austria in the last third of March 1954. Since the beginning of April, elements of the division, including at least components of the 46th Gds Mech Regt, the 15th (Gds ?) Tank Regt and the 106th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt and of the 15th Gds RL Bn have been transferred to the DOELLERSHEIM troop training grounds. There is reason for believing that units of the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div (elements of the 284th and 287th Gds Mtz Rifle Regt) also moved to DOELLERSHEIM in the first half of April. Units of the 23d AAA Div transferred to APETLON AAA firing range for practice with live ammunition in the first half of April. About the same time, Soviet AAA units from Hungary also practiced at the range.
